Feeding on the Word of God

Every believer needs a steady diet of the Word of God. The Bible says we should “desire the sincere (unadulterated, pure) milk of the word” that we may grow thereby (1 Peter 2:2).

It is interesting to note that in the days of the early church believers continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers (Acts 2:42). Believers were fed the Word of God from the apostles.

As the church continued to grow the Lord raised up godly pastors and teachers in the churches who could faithfully minister the Word of God to the people. Speaking to the spiritual leaders at Ephesus the Apostle Paul said:

“Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood” (Acts 20:28).

Pastors and elders in the church have a great responsibility to feed believers the Word of God. The Apostle Peter says to the elders (spiritual leaders, pastors) they are to “feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind” (1 Peter 5:2).

While today believers have wide access to copies of scripture and should faithfully read their Bibles, it is also essential for believers to benefit from the ministry of those called to teach and preach the Word.

It is our joy to feed believers the Word of God here at CBM. May the Lord grant us and every pastor through-out our area the grace to do so faithfully as my prayer.
